What is 'No Win No Fee' Compensation?

We operate a Conditional Fee system which means that if you lose you pay nothing. If your claim succeeds, there will be a deduction from your damages towards our fees and any insurance taken out. No payment is required unless the claim succeeds and, even then, only at the conclusion of your claim.

So, what do you pay when you win?

- A success fee limited to 25% of damages for pain and past financial losses
- Any insurance taken out (if a clinical negligence claim, you only pay part of the premium)

Our commitment to you

What sets us apart is that you will receive a personal service from an experienced specialist who will always act in your best interests.

Obtaining the correct level of damages to which you are entitled to is only part of the service we provide. All of our clients are kept fully informed as to the progress of their claim.

Following full, expert and considered advice from us, we help you to make your own decisions at every stage of your claim.
