

What happens if you die without a will?

Notes:

- children includes adopted and illegitimate children but excludes stepchildren
- children receive their inheritance on reaching 18, or earlier if they marry
- descendants share equally the parts that the deceased parents would have taken
- no-one can inherit unless they outlive you by 28 days; if who died first is not known then the younger is presumed to have outlived the older